

NORTHERN VIRGINIA CONSERVATION TRUST

CONSERVING LAND AND WATER ACROSS THE REGION

The Northern Virginia Conservation Trust (NVCT) is a regional, nonprofit land trust that saves nearby nature by forever preserving and caring for natural areas, trails, streams, parks, and historical and cultural sites to benefit current and future generations.

NVCT works with conservation partners, including local governments and private landowners, to preserve, restore and steward the land in Northern Virginia. Our service area includes more than 3 million residents in a fast-growing region that needs more outdoor recreation resources and wildlife habitat every day.

WHAT WE DO

- Protect lands with conservation value of all sizes, from small lots in heavily developed urban areas to working forest and farmland in rural areas
- Preserve the beauty and sustainability of our land and waters, quality of life, wildlife habitats, and our air quality
- Assist in identifying and protecting important parks and recreation sites such as the state's Crow's Nest Natural Area Preserve
- Steward and monitor protected land
- Provide assistance to local governments to help carry out the goals of their comprehensive plans
- Engage the community with volunteer opportunities, special programs and workshops, training, and outreach events
- Nationally accredited by the Land Trust Accreditation Commission

ABOUT US

Since our founding in 1994, the Northern Virginia Conservation Trust has protected more than 8,000 acres in urban and rural areas throughout Northern Virginia. These sites provide:

- Scenic views.
- Natural places for children to play
- Green spaces that help improve mental health and well-being.

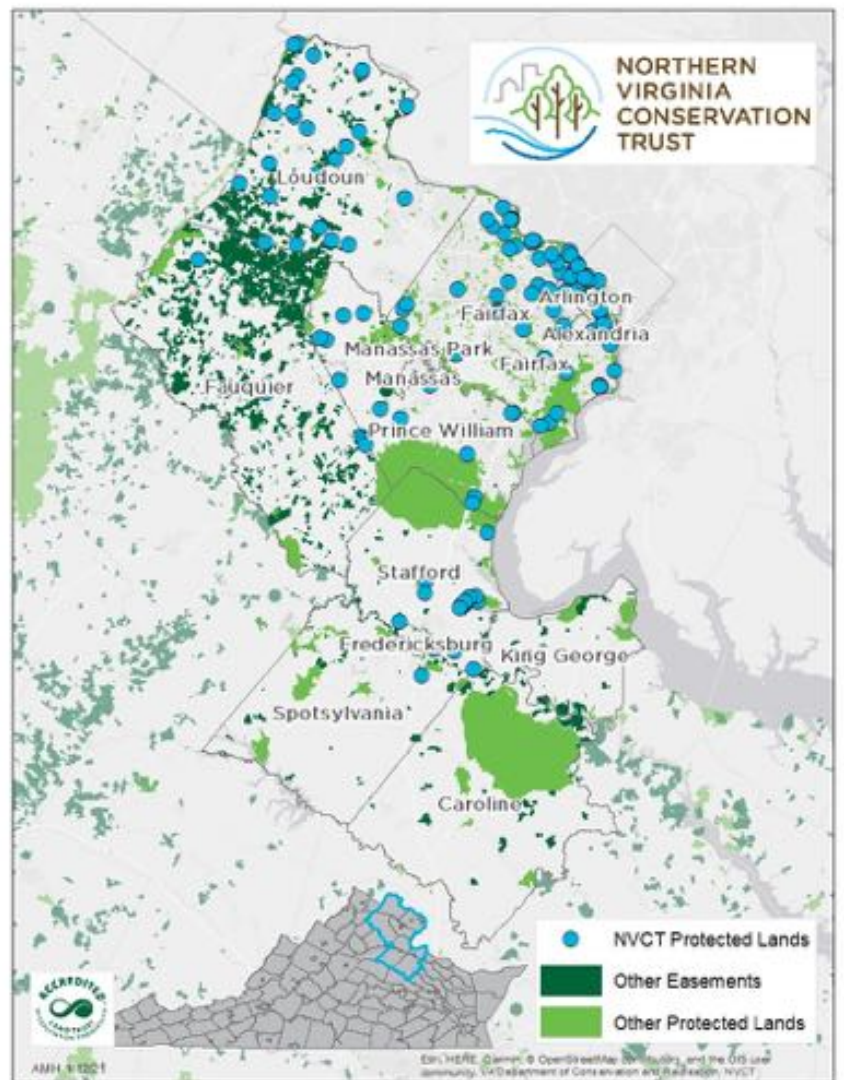

Our work supports working farms that sustain us, nature preserves that provide vital wildlife habitat, and historic homes and landscapes that honor and celebrate our past. We are saving nearby nature now to serve our future generations.
